In this photo obtained by NBC News, a tow truck delivers a bullet-riddled black Mercedes SUV to police headquarters in Watertown, MA, on Friday afternoon, April 19th.

Green Honda Suspect Vehicle: Exhibit 2a

This image was taken from the east-facing window. As soon as the black SUV had left the street officers rushed toward the green sedan and the spot of the shooting. As soon as officers got to the vehicle they started alerting all others on scene that there were "IEDs" on the street and for everyone examining the scene to clear the entire street. Also pictured at the bottom of the image is a Watertown Police SUV that had crashed in on driveway at the start of the gunfight and had many of its windows shot out. (Taken 12:57:52AM)

Green Honda Suspect Vehicle: Exhibit 2d

Twitter User Andrew Kitzenberg says the gunfight took place on the street outside his home

The shooters were also driving the green sedan on the left. They had the back passenger door open and going back into the car where they had additional supplies (assumingly, more ammunition and explosives). They also had backpacks at their feet where they also had additional supplies.

Note: Regarding Suspects Vehicles and accounts of hijacked Mercedes. Here is what the State Police has released:

Massachusetts State Police say a pair of brothers suspected in the Boston Marathon bombings spent the night in a Honda and used it to carjack a Mercedes SUV.

Police said Friday morning at a Watertown news conference that one of the brothers stayed with the carjacking victim for a few minutes and then let him go.

They say one brother drove away in the Honda, and the other one drove away in the Mercedes. Police say one then ditched the Honda and reunited with his brother in the Mercedes. Authorities say both suspects were in the Mercedes when they encountered police and hurled explosives at officers.

Twenty-six-year-old suspect Tamerlan Tsarnaev (tsahr-NY'-ev) was killed.

(Note: Suspects stayed with Car owner for a few minutes and let him go)

That makes sense, besides one thing. They say here that they had ditched the second vehicle. But on the pictures you can clearly see both of the vehicles on the shootout scene that happened on Laurel & Dexter:

Exhibits 2a,2b,2c,2d

According to witness Andrew Kitzenberger, they were driving both cars:

Exhibit 2d

According to a News Report Published Yesterday:

NBC News reports that photographs and eye witness account they have obtained show both a black Mercedes SUV and a green Honda were parked at the scene of the Watertown shootout. Some accounts claim the Honda was parked behind the Mercedes that night. No one has explained how both vehicles may have arrived at the scene.

Also according to the Police Scanner, the suspects had stolen a Black SUV from the State Police!

Interesting News regarding an Unmarked State Police SUV

Published Video Today 04/29: Watertown Manhunt: Multiple Sources tell us an Investigation is under way on whether or not a State Trooper was firing at Boston Police Officer Kenny Conley and State Police LT Dan Walsh who were on Patrol together in an unmarked State Police SUV.

More then 10 rounds were fired at Police Officers on behind during the manhunt, the truck was hit but no one was hurt. A state police officer confirms they're looking at all of the ballistics on scene, the District Attorney's Office is investigating. Another investigation is under way to see if Transit Police Officer Richard Donohue was hit by friendly fire.

Note: This is just unbelievable. Please read the timeline of the Boston manhunt and check the entries yourself.

We have been told that the suspects hijacked a Black Mercedes SUV from a 26-year-old Chinese entrepreneur, who asked to be identified only as Danny. Danny's call to 911 eventually led to a shootout with the suspects, Tamerlan Tsarnaev, 26, and his 19-year-old brother, Dzhokhar. (Read More)

\(USA TODAY\) – In a gripping interview in The Boston Globe, the owner of the Mercedes SUV that was hijacked by the Boston bombing suspects recalls his harrowing 90-minute ride and his escape by jumping from the vehicle at a filling station. His quick thinking thwarted the suspects' apparent plan to drive to New York City to set off more bombs and, instead, triggered a police shootout that led to the capture of one suspect and the death of the other.

(Note – he jumped out of the car)

MSNBC - The violent, night-long chase began shortly after the two suspects went to a convenience store around 10 p.m. and then allegedly shot and killed an MIT police officer. They later allegedly hijacked a Mercedes SUV and drove toward the Boston suburb of Watertown.

The suspects let the owner of the car go unharmed at a gas station after they stole his debit card and tried to withdraw funds from at least three ATMs. Only the second withdrawal was successful, for $800, before they exceeded the man's daily withdrawal limit. The car owner said the two suspects told him they had shot and killed a campus policeman and that they were the marathon bombers, NBC News' Pete Williams reports.

(Note: The suspects let the owner of the car go unharmed at a gas station – No jumping from car)

Question: Did they let him go, or did he jump out of the car?

“What happened is, they shot that one guy dead and then the officer was leaning over him with his foot on him and then the other guy was in that Black Mercedes SUV that took off. That was apparently the guy with the white hat. But they shot at that car at least 100 times, it was semi automatic weapons, handguns, they were just blasting away.”

I could clearly see two people (the Tsarnaev brothers) for releasing photos being held I promptly ran up the further away from the garden. As I ran into my room, I jumped onto my bed to stay below the window but did not. As soon as I was lying safely on my bed I started taking images that documented the terrifying situation.

Suspect #1? We thought he was on the way to the hospital? As he got shot up by Police, and ran over by his brother? Even the news reporter mentioned this in the below video:

Note: People are speculating what happened, suggesting that the suspects or one suspect went to MIT University and were ID'd by someone on Campus. They believe that after that all hell broke loose.

Well, Dzhokhar Tsarnaev went to Dartmouth University and Tamerlan Tsarnaev appeared to be on Welfare. What really happened at MIT??

Members do a comparison of the man at gunpoint on the floor with the brown/reddish hair – Exhibit 1a with a man wearing an MIT sweater photographed close to Dzhokar Tsarnaev at the Boston Marathon Bombing. This is just speculation, but I did find the comparison interesting.

People are confused on who is in the hospital and what is going on with the stripped naked guy who was put in the police car. According to witness account Mike Julakis, one suspect was shot dead by police at Dexter and Laurel. Inserting that the police mentioned gruesome details on how he looked when he died. Exhibit 3a

2:10 AM – Shots fired 14 Hazel St – Officers called in for help!

NOTE: VERY IMPORTANT! – We never heard about this shootout in the MSM! The suspects at 14 Hazel have weapons and the location is just around the corner from last shootout on Dexter Avenue and Laurel Street, in 482 ft. distance. Mind you, this is over an hour later, with suspect 2 at large in the stolen black Mercedes SUV! – What is this? Suspects with Guns within approx. 500 feet of the first shootout? FOX News has a slip up, they are reporting the suspect taken into custody, MIT shooter, from the FBI is NOT one of the suspects in the bombings.

According to the scanner feed, one suspect was identified as the man in the white hat, shown on the FBI photos.

Note: This made me think. Did they actually say that they killed the MIT Police officer? I searched the news.

Yahoo reported the following:

A campus police officer with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was shot and killed by the marathon bombing suspects. In the video they say they shot and killed the Police officer, hijacked a car followed by the shootout.

According to the FBI:

April 22, 2013, 1:35 p.m. EDT

Suspect in Boston Marathon Attack Charged with Using a Weapon of Mass Destruction. Dzhokhar A. Tsarnaev, 19, a U.S. citizen and resident of Cambridge, Massachusetts, has been charged with using a weapon of mass destruction against persons and property at the Boston Marathon on April 15, 2013, resulting in the death of three people and injuries to more than 200 people.

According to that statement, No charges have been filed yet regarding the MIT Police Officer, and officers critically wounded in the shootout

The Boston Globe: Police sources told the Globe that the carjack victim has told police that Tamerlan Tsarnaev and his brother, Dzhokhar, pointed guns at him and, in an apparent effort to intimidate the victim and dissuade him from trying anything foolish, Tamerlan Tsarnaev told him:

“We just killed a cop. We blew up the Marathon. And now we’re going to New York. Don’t [expletive] with us.”

Two of the brothers’ victims, 8-year-old Martin Richard, who was killed in the blasts, and 27-year-old MIT Police Officer Sean Collier, who authorities say was assassinated by the brothers, were remembered at private funeral services.

Boston Metro Desk: Collier, 27, was attacked near Kendall Square in Cambridge in what Boston Police Commissioner Edward Davis has called a “vicious assassination,” an attack that helped spur a massive law enforcement response that ended with suspect Tamerlan Tsarnaev fatally wounded and his brother, Dzhokhar, captured after a 20-hour manhunt.

3:03 AM – Suspect on foot running. Foot pursuit @ Arsenal Mall.

Note: The foot pursuit has been called of 9 Minutes later.

Authorities urged residents in Watertown, Newton, Waltham, Belmont, Cambridge and the Allston-Brighton neighborhoods of Boston to stay indoors. All mass transit was shut down and businesses were asked not to open Friday. People waiting at bus and subway stops were told to go home. “We believe this to be a terrorist,” said Boston Police Commissioner Ed David of the suspect on the loose. “We believe this to be a man who’s come here to kill people. You've got to be kidding me.

177 RETWEETS 24 FAVORITES

People in Boston celebrate the capture of Dzhokhar Tsarnaev & Martial Law that was reality just a couple hours ago.....

Findings:

Need clarification on suspects green Honda CRV that was located at the scene. According to Ma. State Police they have ditched the car and both drove the SUV when they encountered Police. No one has explained how both vehicles may have arrived at the scene, but according to eye witness Kitzenberger they were driving both cars.

Need clarification on second shootout on 14 Hazel street, one hour after the first shootout, when suspect #2 was still at large with the Black SUV.

Why was a rocket located on 25 Oak Street in Cambridge? Need clarification.
